Next Sunday's Readings

Leviticus 19:1-2. 17-18 Psalm 102:1-4.8.10.12-13. Rv8 Corinthians 3:16-23 Matthew 5:38-48

The book, 'Animal Farm' by George Orwell is a story about animals but the message is a very important one for all of us too. The point of the story is that, without structures, without rules to guide behaviour, without somebody taking responsibility to animate and lead the group, we also can descend into anarchy and self-destruction. Without God's laws, the Ten commandments, without the moral teaching that the Church gives us, we would not survive. The Laws actually give us boundaries and in those boundaries, lays our freedom.

God bless you all

Father John

1. Lourdes Pilgrimage Fund: Following the special collection for the Lourdes Pilgrimage Fund; please note donations will be gift aided only when using envelopes provided by the charity concerned. Therefore, donations that were in the Parish Gift Aid second collection envelopes (purple) will be forwarded to the charity but will not be eligible for Gift Aid by the charity. This applies to all second/special collections that take place from time to time for charities that provide their own Gift Aid envelopes.
2. Churches Together Stall: Do you have good organisational/creative skills? Churches Together in Bookham are looking for someone to take charge of their stall on the Bookham Village Day, 17th June 2017. Please contact Marian on 01372 801092.
3. Urgent Need for Church Cleaners at Fetcham: We now only have two ladies who clean the Church of the Holy Spirit. Please consider adding your name to the rota. The more cleaners we have; the less often you will have to clean! If you can help, please contact Margaret Clark on 01372 374245 or let Angela in the Parish Office know.
